Summary: Every year, the Department of Education asks districts if they intend to use unallocated federal funds that were provided to them through a formula process the previous year. When district inform the DOE that they will not be needing those funds, that money is "put into a pot" for a competitive grant process. Funds must be used by September 30, 2019 so must be for one-time activities, supplies or materials. Many districts use Title I reallocation funds for summer programming.
